

Community Data Program

Enabling communities across Canada to measure and track local well-being

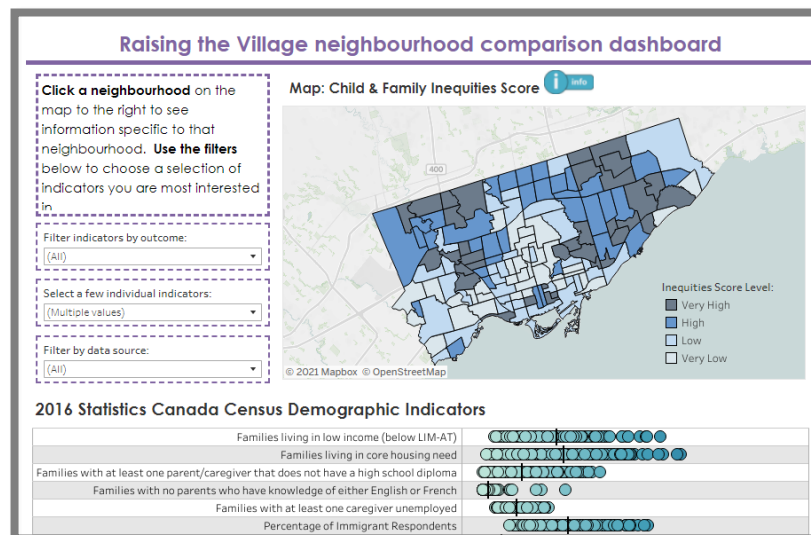

Community Snapshot

Raising the Village

Summary

The Toronto Child & Family Network (TC&FN) launched the Raising the Village website, an interactive knowledge mobilization tool about child and family wellbeing in Toronto. The website has more than 100 indicators and several tools such as the neighbourhood dashboard to understand inequities in well-being. Collectively, the TC&FN works together to improve quality, access and seamless service pathways, so that all children and families in Toronto experience well-being.

Click here to view the Raising the Village neighbourhood comparison dashboard

Practitioner

Tamara Augsten is the Senior Systems Integrator (Data Visualization) at the City of Toronto. Tamara works on the Raising the Village project and creates visualized data using Tableau.

Community data used

- Census, 2016, Statistics Canada

The Community Data Program is an initiative of the Canadian Community Economic Development Network